DETAILED ACTION

Note: This is in response to applicant remarks filed 04/02/2008. Terminal

Disclaimer filed 04/02/2008 has made of record.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 73 and 77-79 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 35, 38, and 42-44 of U.S.

Patent No. 6,080,170. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the relatively subject matter claimed in the instant application such as a device for treatment of a lumen in a blood vessel portion of a living being's vascular system, said device comprising an outer catheter and an instrument having an inner catheter, a working head, and pump means comprising at least one helical pump, wherein said instrument is arranged to be extended through said outer catheter to form a passageway therebetween, said working head of said instrument is arranged to operate on occlusive material in a blood vessel's interior portion to open a lumen therein for the freer flow of blood therethrough, whereupon some debris may be produced by the operation of said working head, wherein said inner catheter comprises a jacket having proximal and distal ends, and further wherein said inner catheter is flexible to permit navigation through tortuous paths of vasculature, said helical pump being disposed in said jacket in such a way as to form an annulus therebetween, said pump means being capable of introducing an infusate liquid at a first flow rate at said working head and withdrawing said liquid at a second and higher flow rate to create a differential flow in said lumen, whereupon at least a portion of any debris produced by the operation of said working head is thereby withdrawn by said at least one helical pump through said passageway for collection remote from the occluded vessel portion and is thereby prevented from flowing into any upstream blood vessel or downstream blood vessel. These limitations would have been obvious in view of the relatively subject matter of the patent claims.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-72 and 83-87 are allowed.
4. Claims 74-76 and 80-82 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 04/02/2008 with respect to claims 73 and 77-79 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
